

SOLUTION

Backward chaining starts with a goal or query and searches for rules that can prove that goal.

1. Start with the required query.
2. Find a rule whose conclusion matches the query.
3. Treat the conditions of that rule as sub-goals.
4. Check whether the sub-goals can be satisfied using available facts or other rules.
5. If all sub-goals are satisfied, the original query is true.