

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Write a Prolog program to store fruits and their colors and retrieve the fruit-color combinations using backtracking. The program should display all possible fruits and their corresponding colors when the user requests more solutions.